II.6. Information whether the financial statements are prepared following a business combination

The financial statements have been prepared for the period in which no business combination took place.

II.7. Indication of simplifications applied for small or micro entities

The Act does not allow for the possibility of applying simplifications for an entity of the type "Other".

II.8. Accounting policies Overview of the accounting principles (policy) adopted, within the scope left to the discretion of the company by the Accounting Act, including:

II.8.1. Methods of measurement of assets, equity and liabilities (including depreciation and amortisation),

The Company's policy in the areas of bookkeeping, methods of measurement of assets and liabilities as well as measurement of profit/loss and preparation of financial statements is based on overriding accounting principles.

Expenses are recorded and accounted for by type, taking into account the auxiliary classification of expenses by organisational units and by function

Accounting records of individual assets are kept in accordance with the measurement methods and principles specified below:

• Fixed assets and intangible assets are recorded in terms of quantity and value. For the purposes of accounting records, the Company applies the current Classification of Fixed Assets introduced by the Ordinance of the Minister of Finance of 30 December 1999, effective from 1 January 2000 after taking into account the amendments introduced by the Ordinance of the Council of Ministers of 12 February 2002. Fixed assets are depreciated and intangible assets are amortised using the straight-line method according to the scheduled annual depreciation/amortisation rates on the revalued initial value established in the depreciation schedule, in the amount specified in the List of annual depreciation/amortisation rates constituting Appendix 1 to the Corporate Income Tax Act

Fixed assets included in group 4, subject to rapid technical progress, are depreciated using the straight-line method with an increased rate of 2.Fixed assets include assets with useful life of more than one year and value of more than PLN 3,500. Fixed assets with a value of less than PLN 3,500 are expensed and included in the off-balance sheet records. The basis for the recognition of a given fixed asset is the criterion of its availability, economic usefulness and the pace of changes in technology, which determines its useful life. Fixed assets under construction are measured at cost.

• Measurement of current assets is carried out for:

inventories: materials and goods – at the actual cost of purchase.

short-term receivables and claims whose maturity date falls on the balance sheet date and is shorter than one year - at the amount due at net value (less any impairment losses).

The amount of receivables is subsequently reduced by impairment losses, if any, which are recognised based on the analysis of collectability of receivables from individual debtors.

The basis for the impairment loss is an individual assessment of the debtor's situation supported by indisputable evidence which makes it likely that the receivable will not be paid in the nearest future.

Receivables denominated in foreign currencies are measured at the balance sheet date at the mid rate quoted by the National Bank of Poland.

• Provisions recognised by the Company relate to deferred corporate income tax resulting from temporary differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities and their tax base.

Deferred tax is determined and posted in accordance with National Accounting Standard No 2 "Income tax".

Other provisions are recognised in justified cases, at a reliably estimated value, taking into account previous experience in the risk of a given liability. No provisions are recognised for events whose value is not significant and which do not significantly affect the Company's financial position.

• Long-term services are recorded in Group 8 accounts. They are recalculated using the method of man-days completed and still necessary to complete the contract.

The value of long-term contracts is accounted for and verified on a quarterly basis. Accrued but not yet realized revenue recognised in the accounting records is subject to the precautionary principle, which results in the simultaneous calculation of deferred tax, i.e. recognition of a deferred tax liability in proportion to accrued revenue and expenses commensurate with it. Long-term services also include contracts with a period of less than 6 months whose value is significant and directly affects the correct determination of revenue commensurate with costs.

• The entity recognises leases in accordance with the Accounting Act.

II.8.2. Rules for determining the profit or loss

The Company prepares its income statement with classification of expenses by type, in accordance with Appendix 1 to the Accounting Act. Individual items of the income statement are reported according to the following rules:

- operating expenses are included in full in the cost of sales, except for those relating to subsequent reporting periods and, in accordance with the matching principle, are included in accruals. Expenses are recorded by type in Group 4 accounts and, auxiliarly, in Group 5 accounts..
- finance income and costs are recognised during the year in accordance with the matching principle
- II.8.3. Rules concerning the preparation of the financial statements

The company prepares its financial statements in the full form, subject to the exclusion of the statement of changes in equity and the statement of cash flows.

II.8.4. Other

II.9. Additional detailed information on accounting policies, resulting from the needs or nature of the entity
